Poetry.

WHEN FORTUNE BEAMS.

When fortune beams around you,
When hearts with pleasure leap:
And hopes and joys surround you—
Forget not those who weep!
When friendship's smile invites you—
To bless and to be blest;
When every charm delights you—
Oh, think of the distressed!

When golden gales betide you,
As if by Heaven decreed,
And plenty stands beside you—
Forget not those who need!
When pleasure's cup seems endless,
Oh prove it without end,
By being to the friendless
In every hour a friend!

Miscellaneous.

BEAUTY OF WOMAN.

Is there not a beauty and a charm in that venerable and venerated woman who sits in the "majesty of age" beside the fireside of her son; who who nursed him in his infancy, tended him in youth, counseled him in manhood, and who now dwells as the tutelary goddess of his household? What a host of blessed memories are linked with that mother, even in her "reverential and arm-chair days!" what a multitude of sanctifying associations surround her and make her lovely, even on the verge of the grave! Is there not a beauty and a charm in that matronly woman who sits looking fondly on the child in her lap: is there not a holy influence around her, and does not the observer at once pronounce her lovely? What though the lines and lineaments of youth are fled? Time has given far more than he has taken away.

And is there not a beauty and a charm in a fair girl who is kneeling before that matron—her own womanly sympathies just opening into active life, as she folds that youthful infant to her bosom? All are beautiful—the opening blossoms, the mature flower, and the ripened fruit; and the callous heart and the sensual mind, that gropes for loveliness as a stimulant for passion, only shows that it has no correct sense of beauty or refined taste.

EDUCATION.

An education is a young man's capital; for a well informed, intelligent mind has the best assurance of future competency and happiness. A father's best gift to his child, then, is a good education. If you leave them wealthy, you may assure their ruin; and at the best you only leave them that which at any moment may be lost.

If you leave them with a cultivated heart, affections trained to objects of love and excellence, a mind vigorous and enlarged, finding happiness pure and elevated in the pursuits of knowledge, you effect an insurance on their after happiness and usefulness. Unless you bring up the young mind in this way you cannot, with any justice, claim for its possessor independence. Your children must be virtuous, or they will not desire it. They must be intelligent to have them intelligent associates, as they must have habits of industry and sobriety to make the company of the industrious and sober agreeable.

It is in your power to bestow this virtue, this intelligence, and these golden habits. Present them a good model in your own life, and give them every opportunity to cultivate the heart and the understanding. Spare not expense on your school, and put into your children's hands everything that may encourage or assist them in their mental or moral improvement.

Scientific Items.—It has been ascertained that the solid crust of the earth at present cannot be less than 8000 or 1000 miles thick.

The cause of the splintering and disruption of trees when struck by lightning, is the sudden expansion of the sap that is converted into vapor by the electricity.

The nutmeg tree resembles our pear tree, and attains the height of about thirty-five or forty feet. The mace is not the flower, as some suppose, but it is the immediate internal coating of the brown, shining shell of the nutmeg.

Precautions against Poison.—It is said that, in Germany, to prevent poison being used for evil purposes, none is allowed to be sold, without a written order or prescription from a physician. To prevent rat poison being made a bad use of, or taken by mistake, the arsenic is mixed with tallow and lampblack, which makes a compound that no human being could partake of. None is allowed to be sold in a pure state.

"Well, Jim," said Joe, "I kissed Kate for the first time, last night, and I declare, it electrified me."

"No wonder," said Jim, "it was a galvanic battery."

Jeemess says he admires the linen sacks worn by the ladies. They are very becoming and fit so nice that it is very comfortable for one to just put his arm around the wearer to see how large they are.

To Ladies of a Certain Age.—Naomi, the daughter of Enoch, was five hundred and eighty years old when she married.

CURIOSITIES OF FOOD.

What do men really live upon? The answers will be various enough. The Guascho, who in the wild pampas of Buenos Ayres, managing his half-wild horse with incredible dexterity, throws the lasso or bolas to catch the ostrich, the guanaco, or the wild bull, consumes daily from ten to twelve pounds of meat, and regards it as a high feast day, when in any hacienda he gains a variety in the shape of a morsel of pumpkin. The word bread does not exist in his vocabulary.

The Irishman, on the other hand, regales himself in careless mirth, on his "potatoes and point," after a day of painful labor, he cannot help making a joke even of the name he gives to his scanty meal. Meat is a strange idea to him, and he is happy indeed if four times a year he can add a herring to season the mealy tubers.

The hunter of the prairies lays low the buffalo with sure bullet; and its juicy, fat streaked rump, roasted between two hot stones, is to him the greatest of delicacies. Meanwhile the industrious Chinese carries to market his carefully fattened rats delicately arranged upon white sticks, certain to find a good customer among the epicures of Peking; and in his hot, smoky hut, fast buried beneath the snow and ice, the Greenlanders consumes his fat, which he has just carved, rejoicing over his costly prize, from a stranded whale.

Here the black sucks his sugar-cane, and eats his banana; there the African merchant fills his wallet with sweet dates, his sole sustenance in the long desert journey; and there the Siamese crams himself with a quantity of rice from which an European would shrink appalled, and wherever over the whole inhabited earth we approach and demand hospitality, in almost every little spot a different kind of food is set before us, and the "daily bread" offered in another form.

The black broth of the Spartans was a famous dish. But, like Dionysius, we are not such Spartans. The Dutchman can eat with great zest his sour fermented cabbage, and the Scotch Highlander his braxy sheep. The Esquimaux can eat oil soup, and what not, and there are various tribes of Indians that live upon a certain kind of clay. The old Angles lived upon acorns and pork, the modern Angles upon coffee and beef. The food that is suitable to one people may not be so to another; and climate makes a great difference in the different kinds of food that should be eaten. What inhospitable of the torrid zone could live with impunity upon blubber, as the inhabitants of the frigid zone can!

Nature allows the appetite to decide for itself, as the conscience checks or approves good or evil acts. These promptings may, no doubt, be destroyed by resisting its primitive teaching; but still it is a monitor, and no even rule of a certain kind of diet can be prescribed that will answer equally for every person.—More physical evils arise from gorging the stomach than from any certain kinds of food. Moderate eating and plenty of exercise in the open air, are a sure remedy for many diseases, and certainly a greater preventive of than remedy of disease.

There is a large tribe of Indians in New Mexico, who live on a sort of grass-hopper, or wingless locust, which they dry, pulverize, and knead into a sort of cake, which they bake, and which is not bad eating. The wild horse, which traverses the plains of California and New Mexico in vast troops—the descendants of the war-horse introduced by the Spanish discoverers and conquerors—are becoming more highly prized and sought out. By some they are used as food.—The early settlers of Oregon fed on their flesh, and found it quite palatable and nourishing; they called it "Columbia beef."—Spirit of the Age.

A Yankee Answer.—A wag was said that it was a Yankee peculiarity to answer one question by asking another. To sustain the assertion, a down-caster was interrogated.

"I want you," said the better, "to give me a straightforward answer to a plain question."

"I kin do it, mister," said the Yankee. "Then, why is it New Englanders always answer a question by asking one in return?"

"Du they?" was Jonathan's reply.

A Gossip's Story.—How Raised.—Mother Hopkins told me that she heard Green's wife say that John Harris's wife told her that Granny Howe heard the widow Barnes say that Capt. Weed's wife thought that Col. Haven's wife believed that Miss Lamb reckoned that Sam Durham's wife had told Spalding's wife that she heard John Mudget's wife say that old Mother Goose told her that Mrs. Annias heard Granny Crane say that she had no doubt it was a fact.—Now who can disbelieve it?

The Steubenville papers announce the death of Martin Andrews, an Ohio pioneer, and one of the earliest of the band. When he first descended the Mississippi in a flat boat, it was a fair month's voyage.

BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENT.—John G. Whittier, the Quaker poet, in writing about the Irish emigrants among us, says:</

GRAEFENBURG SPRINGS.

THE Proprietor of these celebrated "COLD SPRINGS" will open his new and elegantly furnished establishment in April, both for the accommodation of transient visitors, and the those who may wish regularly to undergo for "Water Cure Treatment." (To this end he has secured the services of a gentleman who is thoroughly acquainted with the "Principles & Practice of the Water Cure," and a graduate of one of the most respectable Medical Schools in the country.)

His accommodations are ample, and for cheapness cannot be surpassed in the country.

His baths are conveniently arranged, with spacious and elegant bathing houses, furnished with sleeping apartments, &c.; the baths designed for the use of the Ladies, being separate and distant from those of the Gentlemen.

The facilities of this institution for the "Practice of the Water Cure," as regards the abundance and variety of its waters, the pure and exhilarating air, the picturesque and romantic mountain scenery, the sequestered walks, &c., are not surpassed, if indeed they are equalled, in the State; which, together with its central location, and easy access from all quarters, combine to make it an inviting

The precise location of these Springs is at the base of the South Mountain, on the turnpike leading from Baltimore to Pittsburg; ten and a half miles east of Chambersburg, and fourteen and a half miles west of Gettysburg, known as Goodyear's Springs.

Stages run daily on this road, from Baltimore and York via Gettysburg and Chambersburg. During the past several years some remarkable and interesting cures of Lung and Liver Diseases, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, &c. have been effected at these Springs.

Persons coming to the institution to undergo the "Water Cure Treatment," should bring with them two linen sheets, two blankets, six coarse towels and a few yards of linen.

No pains will be spared to render this place a home for all; a place of rest for the weary, and of relief for the sick and afflicted.

The charges will be so accommodated as not to exclude even the poorest person from the benefits of the Institution.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the Constitution of this Commonwealth be amended in the second section of the fifth article, so that it shall read as follows: The Judges of the Supreme Court, of the several Courts of Common Pleas, and of such other Courts of Record as are or shall be established by law, shall be elected by the qualified electors of the Commonwealth in the manner following, to wit: The Judges of the Supreme Court, by the qualified electors of the Commonwealth at large. The President Judges of the several Courts of Common Pleas and of such other Courts of Record as are or shall be established by law, and all other Judges required to be learned in the law, by the qualified electors of the respective districts over which they are to preside or act as Judges.—And the Associate Judges of the Courts of Common Pleas by the qualified electors of the counties respectively. The Judges of the Supreme Court shall hold their offices for the term of fifteen years, if they shall so long behave themselves well: (subject to the allotment hereinafter provided for, subsequent to the first election.) The President Judges of the several Courts of Common Pleas, and of such other Courts of Record as are or shall be established by law, and all other Judges required to be learned in the law, shall hold their offices for the term of ten years, if they shall so long behave themselves well. The Associate Judges of the Courts of Common Pleas shall hold their offices for the term of five years, if they shall so long behave themselves well: all of whom shall be commissioned by the Governor; but for any reasonable cause which shall not be sufficient grounds of impeachment, the Governor shall remove any of them on the address of two-thirds of each branch of the Legislature.—The first election shall take place at the general election of this Commonwealth next after the adoption of this amendment, and the commissions of all the judges who may be then in office shall expire on the first Monday of December following, when the terms of the new judges shall commence. The persons who shall then be elected Judges of the Supreme Court shall hold their offices as follows: one of them for three years, one for six years, one for nine years, one for twelve years, and one for fifteen years; the term of each to be decided by the said judges as soon after the election as convenient, and the result certified by them to the Governor, that the commissions may be issued in accordance thereto. The judge whose commission will first expire shall be Chief Justice during his term, and thereafter each judge whose commission shall first expire shall in turn be the Chief Justice, and if two or more commissions shall expire on the same day, the judges holding them shall decide by lot which shall be the Chief Justice. FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER,

OF LUZERNE COUNTY.

WHIG COUNTY TICKET.

Now Township.

At the last Court, a new Township was formed out of parts of Menallen and Franklin townships in this county, and called "BUTLER."

The number of deaths at Cincinnati, from May 1st to Aug. 30th, was 6450; of which 4,100 were from cholera. This mortality estimated as equal to one in fifteen of population during that time. Dr. Harrison, Professor of the Ohio Medical College at Cincinnati, died of cholera on Monday.

Rev. Dr. Enzer, President of the Pennsylvania Lutheran Synod, and pastor of the German Lutheran Church in Lebanon, died on the 1st inst. very suddenly, of a cramp in the stomach, in the 64th year of his age.

A large and enthusiastic Mass Meeting of the Whigs of Philadelphia was held in Independence Square, on Monday evening last, to respond to the nomination of Henry M. Fuller, Esq., for Canal Commissioner. The meeting was addressed by Mr. Fuller, Charles Gilpin, Esq., Hon. Joseph R. Chandler, Hon. James Cooper, Wm. Morris, Esq., Hon. E. Joy Morris, Wm. S. Rice, and others.

Gen. Tarron left Niagara on Wednesday, for Washington, via Lake Ontario. The National Intelligencer is unable to say whether the public business or the fatigue consequent on his journey has induced this unexpected change in his movements.

The number of deaths by cholera during its prevalence at Springfield, Ohio, was 91 out of a population of 3,500; and at Eaton, Ohio, 91 out of a population of 1,000, and the total in the county (Prob.) 154. The cholera still prevails to some extent in many places. The whole number of deaths at Buffalo up to Saturday week was 868.

Sad Case of Drowning.

We learn from the Lancaster Farmer of last week, that five persons were drowned in the Susquehanna river, on Wednesday afternoon last, about one mile above Safe Harbor in that county. It appears, from what we are able to learn, that a party of six, from a place known as Turkey Hill, embarked in a skiff with the design of crossing to an island to procure some kind of fruit. They had proceeded some distance from the shore when the skiff came in contact with a rock and immediately upset, in deep water, drowning five of the party—viz: Mrs. Manning, Miss Hughes, aged 19 years, another married lady, the wife of Mr. David Roland, Mr. Peters, and a son of Mr. Peters' aged about 14 years. Mr. Manning, the only survivor, obtained a foothold upon a rock, where he was able to keep his head above the water; but seeing no chance of rescue from his perilous situation, he took to the water and succeeded in swimming to the shore.

The celebrated and talented Lamartine, of France, it is said has become a bankrupt and insane.

Counterfeit $2 notes on the Mechanics' Bank of Baltimore are in circulation. They have a greasy, trashy appearance.

Edward Hicks, a highly esteemed and popular preacher of the Society of Friends died on Thursday week, in Newtown, Bucks county, Pennsylvania.

The steamer Hardee, a few days ago on her way from St. Louis to Council Bluffs, burst her connection pipe, killing the Captain, and scalding several others severely, some of them mortally.

Thirteen or fourteen buildings were destroyed by fire in Cincinnati on Thursday. The loss is very heavy.

The advices by the Niagara, in reference to Hungary, have caused a deep sensation throughout this country, and produced universal regret. The news has fallen upon us like a thunder-bolt, for it was not expected, from their previous brilliant successes.

Important from Venezuela.—By late advices from Laguyra, received at Philadelphia, it seems that the second attempt of the partisans of Gen. Parz to revolutionize the Government of Venezuela, has been as unsuccessful as their first one. It is reported that Gen. Parz and President Monagas, at the head of their respective forces, had a conflict on the 12th August at San Felipe, which resulted in the capture of the former and the flight of his army. The affairs of the country remain in a very unsettled condition.

Annihilating Space.—Mr. Fuller of the Milwaukee Sentinel, lately made the trip from Milwaukee to the city of New York in sixty-two hours and a half, running time. The distance is about 1100 miles.

The nomination of Henry M. Fuller as the Whig candidate for Canal Commissioner of Pennsylvania, is responded to in the warmest and most enthusiastic manner throughout the State. The nomination was made by the State Convention with the same unanimity that attended the nomination of Gov. Johnston last year, and has been received by the people in the same spirit of enthusiasm with which it was made. Everywhere, from all quarters, the voice of approval comes up, showing that the best spirit pervades our ranks, and augurs the certain and complete success of our cause. We have on file a number of responses from the Whig press, and of public meetings, which we had intended to publish, but have not yet been able to do so. We shall endeavor to give some of them next week.

If the proper efforts are made to get out a full Whig vote, Henry M. Fuller will be elected by a majority of thousands; and a Whig majority in the Legislature will be carried. These are results which would redound to the honor and interests of the State, and are well worth the exertions of the whole Whig party. Mr. Fuller has entered the campaign himself in good earnest. He addressed a large meeting in Philadelphia on Monday evening, and will labor faithfully amongst the people in various parts of the State, until the election. He is now one of the ablest and most popular men in the State, and will become more and more popular as he becomes better known, and he will make himself better known and heard.

We say to every Whig in the Commonwealth, arouse! Buckle on your armor, and come up to the fight. The signs of the times are auspicious, and if you all do your duty, our flag will continue to float in triumph over the Old Keystone.—Intelligencer.

Guerrilla Fight.

It seems that the Locofoco leaders have become so conscious of the rottenness of their cause and of its odiousness in the public estimation, that they consider an open, fair, field-fight altogether hopeless; and have hence determined to change their tactics and try the Guerrilla system. In their county they declare they will offer to the people neither regular nominations nor volunteers, at the approaching election! In Lancaster county the Chairman of their County Committee officially announces that no ticket will be settled by the Party this year! Doubtless in other Whig counties the same policy is determined upon.

This is a beautiful state of affairs for the "indomitable and harmonious and unconquerable Democracy!" Not able in the year A. D. 1849—the 1st of the Administration of Old Zack, the hero of two Buena Vista victories; to muster a County Ticket where but a year ago they paraded them with all the pride and pomp of most confident of victory! Pityable plight! Ancient chivalry laid aside—the field abandoned—the boasted followers of Old and Young Hickory beaten to GUERRILLA warfare! "Tell it not in Gath; publish it not in the streets of Askelon!" sufficiently humiliating must it be to have it known even amongst our selves.

But let the Whigs take warning to keep a sharp look out. The Guerrilla system, dishonorable and degrading as it is, sometimes effects what open, manly warfare could not hope to do. Let our organization be carefully preserved—let the Press be watchful, and let the people be faithful, and no harm can be done us. But at the same time let us brand our opponents, who have adopted this barbarian system, as GUERRILLAS, that the nature of their tactics may be ever in our minds. They denounce us "Brutish Whigs," "Tories," &c., and in return the epithet we propose is surely not too harsh, Guerrillas!—Herald, Lancaster Register.

A Fuss among Students at College.

The young gentlemen who are receiving instruction at Washington College, Pa., have had a difficulty with the faculty, and thirty of them have withdrawn from that institution, if their fathers do not send them back. One of them committed improprieties, for which he was reprimanded, and his father informed of the fact. He took the matter in high dudgeon, and demanded an explanation. A number sided with him, but the faculty refused to numbers what they had denied to the delinquent, and the result was a withdrawal of the students from the College.

Diseased Potatoes should not be eaten.

As many as twenty-one persons recently died at a farm in Ohio, the property of a gentleman named Rennick, and it is believed, from no other cause than eating diseased potatoes. These deaths have been before reported as from cholera.

A Mr. Hunter, in the same neighborhood, nearly lost his life a couple of weeks ago from eating potatoes ascertained by subsequent examination to have been diseased.

Heavy Damages and Important Verdict.—Rev. Alexander Campbell, President of Bethany (Va.) College, has received $10,000 of Rev. James Robinson, of Scotland. Mr. Campbell, on a tour through Scotland in 1817, was arrested and imprisoned in Edinburgh, through the agency of the Rev. James Robinson, for having, while discoursing on the subject of slavery, uttered sentiments obnoxious to that gentleman. Some of his friends instituted a suit against Mr. R. This suit has recently terminated, and the result is a decree of the Lords of Council and Session in favor of Mr. C. for two thousand pounds sterling.

Pardon of Furlbanks by Gov. Crittenden.—Mr. Calvin Furlbanks, of Genesee, N. Y., was convicted in Kentucky five years ago of aiding the escape of a slave and sentenced to the Penitentiary for 12 years. Upon being petitioned signed by Mr. Clay and other distinguished citizens, Gov. Crittenden pardoned him and he is now on his way home.

Thrilling Incident.—An incident transpired a day or two since, at the Government Works at Sellers' Pt. Flats, which was very unusual and thrilling in its character. It appears, that for some time past, a number of men have been engaged at that place under the direction of Captain Foster, of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, in digging a well, and the depth of sixty seven feet was attained after pretty hard labor, with the pick and shovel. One of the workmen, on resuming operations, struck the bottom very hard with a shovel, and immediately a stream of water burst, with great violence, through the aperture. The poor man, frightened at the dreadful situation, immediately pulled the rope with which he had been lowered, and hallooed to those above to draw him out, which was quickly done, though he received a complete drowning. In less than five minutes, the water had risen to within eight feet of the surface.—Balt. Sun.

Awful Colliery Explosion.—Seventy Lives Lost.—On the 10th ult., at Aberdare, near Merthyr Tydfil, South Wales, a dreadful explosion of fire-damp, that dread and destructive agent, occurred at Mr. Wm. Thomas' colliery. The shock was felt for miles round. Sooner than the fatal event a most melancholy scene took place—mothers hurrying in search of their sons, wives in search of their husbands, their cries rendering the air as corpse after corpse, blackened and mutilated, was brought to sight; soon sixty disfigured corpses were brought from the pit, and then, it having become fatal to descend to the pit, the brave men who had, in such a praiseworthy manner, rescued the few that escaped from the pit, gave over, though it was believed that there were a great many others down, living or dead. One hundred and five men and boys were in the pit at the time of the explosion, very few of whom have been brought out alive. Seven horses were killed. It is confidently asserted that the cause of this most awful catastrophe was the negligence of one of the colliers in going to a dangerous heading without a safety lamp. It is scarce three years ago since twenty-eight human lives were destroyed by an explosion of the same nature, and near the same pit.

Desperate Bravery.—Trappers' Fight with a Sioux War Party.—Three trappers, Vale, Cass, and Young, says the Jackson County (Iowa) Democrat, while looking for a beaver in the vicinity of Morcou river, discovered a large trail, rightly supposing that they were in the vicinity of a strong band of Indians. They selected a suitable spot, and built of logs and poles a small hut, to which they gave the name of a fort. Before it was finished the Indians made their appearance. They showed that they were determined to have their scalps. Vale and his companions prepared for a desperate resistance. At the first fire of the Indians, Young was shot through the head. Vale and Cass returned the fire, and three Indians fell, at which they raised the war whoop. The unequal contest lasted several hours, Cass loading the guns while Vale, with unerring aim, thinned their ranks. Cass imprudently exposed his face and received a ball in his eye. Vale was now left alone to contend against the Indians. He made the best of it, loaded and fired in such rapid succession that the Indians were on the point of retiring, when he fell mortally wounded. The Indians lament his death, they buried him without scalping him, and honor him with the name of Eagle Brave. Twenty-eight Indians were killed in the action. Vale's relatives reside in Milwaukee.

St. Louis, Sept. 3.

By later advices from the Plains we learn that the cholera is raging among the North-western Indians to an alarming extent. It has disappeared from among the Southern tribes and those on the South Arkansas river. The Indians along the Missouri river continue greatly incensed against the whites for introducing the epidemic amongst them, and were committing daily murders on the inoffensive inhabitants out of revenge.

Packed ship Henry Clay Burned.

New York, Sept. 5.

About three o'clock this morning, the splendid packet ship Henry Clay, lying in the dock at Burling Slip, took fire, and in a short time was burned to the water's edge. She had about half of her cargo on board. The Henry Clay was one of the finest packet ships belonging to this port. It will be remembered that a year or two ago she was driven ashore on the Jersey coast, and was got off after much damage and at great expense. She was to have sailed for Liverpool tomorrow, Sept. 6th.

The Henry Clay was insured for 60,000 to $70,000. Her cargo, which was partially insured, consisted principally of flour and cotton, and was valued at $25,000.

Quick Firing.—During an official visit of the Secretary of the Navy to the navy yard at Washington, on Friday, a series of experiments in gunnery were given, under the direction of Lieut. S. A. Dalgren, ordnance officer of the post. The Republic says, that by improvements lately made in the ordnance by that skillful officer and others, a thirty-two pounder was fired seven times in a minute, from one gun, being about double the usual number of rounds in that time.

Governor Johnston, of Pennsylvania, left the President at Erie, and returned to Harrisburg on account of the illness of his daughter.

The Iron Manufacture.—How much the iron interest is suffering in this country by foreign competition, may be best judged by the fact, stated by the Albany Evening Journal, that the Directors of the Hudson River Railroad Company have actually paid to Peter Cooper, Esq., of Trenton, the large bonus of $45,000, for permission to retire from a contract entered into with him for rails. The contract was made for $67,500 a ton, but since the English rails are offered in the market in unlimited quantities at about $40 per ton, the Company find it profitable to pay Mr. Cooper $4,000 to render the contract with him a nullity, and then turn around and buy English iron. American iron masters cannot live in the face of such competition.

Robbing a Letter.—A young man by the name of Knowls, a clerk in the Post Office at New Hope, says the last Doylestown Independent Democrat, was committed in default of bail, to the jail of Bucks county, last week, charged with breaking the seal of a letter, and purloining $100 which was enclosed therein. After being charged with the deed, and the money discovered about his person, the rogue finding it useless to attempt any further plea of innocence, at once acknowledged his guilt. He is said to have just reached his 21st year, and has hitherto borne a respectable character. What a melancholy commencement is this for a young man to make! His whole future life will be destroyed by this single act. He will be taken to Philadelphia and tried before the U. S. Circuit Court.

Two Enormous Serpents.—The brig Republic, whose arrival from Para, Brazil, has been already announced, brought as a portion of her "assorted cargo," an immense boa constrictor and a large anaconda. We are told they are the most magnificent samples of their respective varieties ever shipped alive from the shores of South America. The capture of the boa is said to have been an exciting affair. Though gorged with prey when attacked, he made such a vigorous fight that fifteen men, provided with strong nets, ropes, &c., found great difficulty in securing the monster. The reptiles are still on board the vessel.—N. Y. Tribune, Aug. 30th.

Large Robbery.—The trunk of D. G. McCreary, of Parkersburg, Va., was robbed of $3,000 on Sunday, on board the steamer Elkton, on the Ohio. The money had been entrusted to him by the Bank at Parkersburg to deliver to the Merchants and Mechanics' Bank of Wheeling.

Six Chinese were hanged for piracy on the 7th of June at Hong Kong professing Christianity in their last moments, having been proselytized by the Roman Catholic missionaries. Piracy continued notwithstanding, a native vessel having been plundered on the evening of the 6th within sight of the gallows.

Heavy Penalty.—The law in Connecticut against selling spirituous liquors imposes a fine of $10 for the first offence, $20 for the second, and so double for every offence of which a man shall be convicted. A man has forty-five cases pending against him, the last of which, if found guilty, subjects him to a penalty of $114,490,982,543,360.

Destructive Overflow.—The Red River Republican of the 21st ult., gives the particulars of a late terrible overflow in that vicinity, and estimates the damages at five millions of dollars. That paper states that not over 30,000 bales of cotton will be made in a section of country where 130,000 were produced last year.

The Genesee Synod of the Presbyterian Church, which convened at Fredonia, N. Y., a few days ago, closed its sessions on Friday last. It was not largely attended, owing to the prevalence of the epidemic, and the most interesting business before it was a case of discipline. A lay member, contrary to the rules of the church, had joined the Sons of Temperance, and the censures passed upon him by the church were sustained and affirmed by the Synod. An appeal was had to the Synod, and the matter was settled by repealing the resolution of censure passed by the church for his joining a secret society.

A Queer Propensity.—It was announced a few days ago, that a young man, son of the Rev. J. N. Sprague, had seized a lady in the streets of Brooklyn, threw her down and stole the shoe from her foot, which was afterwards found in the pocket of his coat. The father of the young man has published a letter in which he says, that from early boyhood this son has evinced a strange propensity for getting possession of the shoes of the female part of the family. This propensity was not steady, but periodical. As early as thirteen or fourteen years of age it was developed, the fact being notorious, not to the family only, but to the domestics. Sometimes one shoe would disappear, sometimes the pair, and they were discovered in the son's pocket, in his trunk, his bed, his room, and slyly concealed in various other places. This is the strangest kind of a monomania.

Ingenuity of Rogues.—The London Globe says the light-fingered gentry now wear short coats with pockets outside. Their hands, in a crowd, are always, to prevent suspicion, in their pockets, which, however, have a large hole in the bottom. Through it a spring is managed to push the coat and many cases, on receiving and undetected contraband, are thus smuggled out.

Funeral Gambling.—A number of the lady boarders of Saratoga were upon the scene of the funeral of a man who had been a gambler.

Prussian Brutality.—An American in a Prussian Prison.—A letter from Basle, Switzerland, dated Aug. 13, to the Philadelphia Pennsylvania, says that a citizen of Harrisburg, Pa., named Beck, is now imprisoned in the Fortress of Rostock, by the Prussians, for some political offence, and that they are ready to relieve him on his giving guarantee that he will immediately leave for the United States, and never return again to Continental Europe. The same writer also adds: "Only yesterday morning, in this neighborhood, in Frieberg, a young, intelligent, and literary man, named Neff, personally known to me, was shot, having been found guilty by a Prussian court martial of exciting, by writing, the people of Baden and Germany to be dissatisfied with the present form of government; and last, but not least, of being in correspondence with the Democrats of France, Switzerland and America! Upon these grounds, the man [only 27 years old, and only support of an aged, widowed mother] was condemned and shot. He died like a man. When arrived at the place of execution, he swung his hat, and exclaimed in a loud voice, 'Long live German Liberty—long live the German Republic!' These were his last words, and eight bullets entered his breast at the same instant. The executioners were as pale as death, whilst Neff looked cheerful."

A Desperate Lover.—A few days ago as a young lady was returning from a camp meeting, near Lancaster, accompanied by a gentleman, she was attacked by a rejected lover, who knocked the gentleman down, hit the lady a blow in the breast, and then attempted to throttle her! The furious lover was subsequently arrested. He would have made a pretty husband, had his suit been accepted!

Pleasures of Office-Holding.—The Governor of Canada has had all the lower floor of the mansion at Monkland's, his "White House," barricaded with three-inch plank, loopholed for musketry. When he rides about it is always within the points commanded by a line of muskets.

Money from a Grave.—The St. Louis Republican has an account of a sum of money lately recovered in the following manner: A Mr. Conklin, a merchant of Peoria, while on his way to St. Louis, was taken very suddenly ill on the boat, and soon afterwards made his will and delivered a package of money over to the officers of the boat. The package was not examined at the time, but Mr. Conklin had several times stated that he had upwards of $3,000 in money with him. When he was to be removed from the boat, the packet was opened and only $1,060 found in it. His clothing were searched, but no traces of the missing amount was gathered. All came to the conclusion that it had been stolen. Mr. C. was conveyed to the Hotel for Invalids in the morning and died that evening, and was buried the next day. News of the loss was sent to his family, and by return an answer was received that he had a part of his funds sewed in his under flannel shirt. Upon exhuming the body, and directing it of the shirt, which had not been taken off on account of the rigidity of the limbs after death, the remaining portion, $2,020, was found carefully sewed up in it.

Canadian Independence.—The movement in behalf of Canadian independence has become more marked and open. Mr. H. B. Wilson, who has been for some years prominently connected with provincial politics, has issued the prospectus of a new semi-weekly paper to be called the "Canadian Independent," which he proposes to issue at Hamilton and Toronto—chiefly designed "to promote, by peaceable means, separation from the Mother Country." In Lower Canada the feeling in favor of independence is almost unanimous, and the public press has taken the lead in its advocacy. In Upper Canada a large proportion of the inhabitants are said to entertain similar sentiments, although, from their subservience to party purposes, the journals avoid the subject. The opinion is also expressed that the English Government will concede independence whenever it shall be asked by a majority of the people.

More United States.—The territory not yet formed into States, will make forty six and a half States as large as Pennsylvania. Of these thirty five will be north of thirty-six degrees thirty minutes, or free States. Eleven and a half south of thirty-six degrees thirty minutes or slave States—supposing the Missouri compromise line to be adopted. The U. S. States will then consist of seventy-six sovereign States. Should Oregon, California, and New Mexico fly off, and the Rocky Mountains be the division between the United States of the Pacific, the Atlantic Union will contain fifty-seven sovereign States, the Pacific Union nineteen gigantic sovereign States. These calculations are based upon the recent report of the United States Commissioner of the general Land Office—and take in all the United States territory of every kind not yet formed into States.

Large Watermelon.—The Atlanta Argus has been shown a watermelon of uncommon size, from the plantation of a friend, which weighed seventy-three pounds and a quarter, and measured eighteen feet six inches in circumference, and twelve feet nine inches in diameter.

Funeral Gambling.—A number of the lady boarders of Saratoga were upon the scene of the funeral of a man who had been a gambler.

Mortality among the Fish.—The Board of Health of the city of Baltimore have found it necessary to provide scows to collect and convey away the fish, which are found dead in great numbers in the harbor, from Federal Hill down to the Fort. The mortality is attributed to the refuse from the chemical works and manufacturing establishments, which has only of late, it is said, been deposited there.

Unusual Appearance of the Sea.—The Gloucester (Mass.) Telegraph says, the unusual appearance of the sea is attracting the attention of many. It is of a light greenish color, and appears to be thick and dirty. The fishermen are complaining that fish don't bite, and attribute it to the state of the water. It is something which has not been witnessed for many years.

A Curious Idea.—Gutta percha tubes are now laid in some English churches, from the pulpit, to the pews of deaf persons, by which they are enabled to hear the preacher.

In consequence, too, of the peculiar power possessed by this tubing for the transmission of sound, a gentleman in New York, it is said, has applied it for the conveyance of messages from the parlor to the kitchen. Even a whisper at the mouth-piece is distinctly heard when the ear is applied at the other end. The mistress first calls attention by gently blowing into the tube, which sounds a whistle in the kitchen.

Postscript.

The President, on account of his illness, was obliged to suspend his northern tour, and hasten back to Washington, to restore his health, if possible, by quiet and proper treatment. He left the Falls on Wednesday, arrived at Albany on Thursday evening, New York on Friday forenoon, Philadelphia in the afternoon, and Baltimore by the Friday night boat, and was to proceed to Washington by the early train, if able to do so. He was very enthusiastically received at Albany and New York, but did not land at Philadelphia. At Baltimore he appeared very feeble and suffering, and seemed to walk with difficulty from the boat to a carriage.

Sad Accident.

It gives us pain to mention, that one of the sons of Hon. James Cooper, aged about 10 or 11 years, was playing upon a coal car at Pottsville on Thursday evening, when the car was put in motion, and he fell upon the track, the car passing over him and crushing one of his legs in so dreadful a manner that amputation was rendered necessary. We have not heard which of the sons—but we presume his youngest (Matthew). A short time after, a man named Gilpin, while walking upon the track, was run over and had both legs crushed. He died in an hour after.

There is great excitement in Cuba, and the Captain General has called out four thousand troops, and sent them to some of the large towns. This military movement is attributed to the late proclamation of President Taylor.

Three vessels were seized at New York on Friday, with men on board, supposed to be engaged in a secret expedition against Cuba or some of the Mexican States.

EVER PILLS.—No medicine ever earned for itself a higher reputation in so short a time, as has the Liver Pill, discovered and compounded by Dr. M'Lane, of Virginia. Although but a short time comparatively before the public, it has already earned for itself a degree of popularity hitherto unsurpassed. The demand for them has become immense. Messrs. Kidd & Co. the proprietors of the medicine, who reside in Pittsburgh, corner of 4th and Wood streets, are constantly receiving orders which they find it almost utterly impossible to supply. The popularity of these Pills is not confined to any particular section of the country, the demand being general, from the North, South, East and West. The truth is, no disease is more common in all quarters of the United States than that of the Liver. And these Pills are the best remedy ever yet discovered for Hepatic derangement.

At the last Court, a new Township was formed out of parts of Menallen and Franklin townships, in this county, and called "BUTLER."

The number of deaths at Cincinnati, from May 1st to Aug. 30th, was 6459; of which 4,100 were from cholera. This mortality is estimated as equal to one in fifteen of population during that time. Dr. Harrison, Professor of the Ohio Medical College at Cincinnati, died of cholera on Monday.

Rev. Dr. Enxer, President of the Pennsylvania Lutheran Synod, and pastor of the German Lutheran Church in Lebanon, died on the 1st inst. very suddenly, of cramp in the stomach, in the 64th year of his age.

A large and enthusiastic Mass Meeting of the Whigs of Philadelphia was held in Independence Square, on Monday evening last, to respond to the nomination of Henry M. Fuller, Esq., for Canal Commissioner. The meeting was addressed by Mr. Fuller, Charles Gilpin, Esq., Hon. Joseph R. Chandler, Hon. James Cooper, Wm. R. Morris, Esq., Hon. E. Joy Morris, Wm. S. Rice, and others.

Gen. TAYLOR left Niagara on Wednesday, for Washington, via Lake Ontario. The National Intelligencer is unable to say whether the public business or the fatigue consequent on his journey has induced this unexpected change in his movements.

The number of deaths by cholera during its prevalence at Springfield, Ohio, was 91 out of a population of 3,500, and at Eaton, Ohio, 91 out of a population of 1,000, and the total in the county, (Preble,) 154. The cholera still prevails to some extent in many places. The whole number of deaths at Buffalo up to Saturday week was 858.

Sad Case of Drowning.

We learn from the Lancaster Farmer of last week, that five persons were drowned in the Susquehanna river, on Wednesday afternoon last, about one mile above Safe Harbor in that county. It appears, from what we are able to learn, that a party of six, from a place known as Turkey Hill, embarked in a skiff with the design of crossing to an island to procure some kind of fruit. They had proceeded some distance from the shore when the skiff came in contact with a rock and immediately overset, in deep water, drowning five of the party—viz: Mrs. Manning, Miss Hughes, aged 19 years, another married lady, the wife of Mr. David Roland, Mr. Peters, and a son of Peters' aged about 14 years. Mr. Manning, the only survivor, obtained a foothold upon a rock, where he was able to keep his head above the water; but seeing no chance of rescue from his perilous situation, he took to the water and succeeded in swimming to the shore.

The celebrated and talented Lamartine, of France, it is said has become a bankrupt and insane.

Counterfeit $2 notes on the Mechanics' Bank of Baltimore are in circulation. They have a greasy, trashy appearance.

Edward Hicks, a highly esteemed and popular preacher of the Society of Friends died on Thursday week, in Newtown, Bucks county, Pennsylvania.

The steamer Hardee, a few days ago, on her way from St. Louis to Council Bluffs, burst her connection pipe, killing the Captain, and scalding several others severely, some of them mortally.

Thirteen or fourteen buildings were destroyed by fire in Cincinnati on Thursday. The loss is very heavy.

The advices by the Niagara, in reference to Hungary, have caused a deep sensation throughout this country, and produced universal regret. The news has fallen upon us like a thunderbolt, for it was not expected, from their previous brilliant successes.

Important from Venezuela.—By late advices from Laguyra, received at Philadelphia, it seems that the second attempt of the partisans of Gen. PAEZ to revolutionize the Government of Venezuela, has been as unsuccessful as their first one. It is reported that Gen. PAEZ and President MONAGAS, at the head of their respective forces, had a conflict on the 12th August at San Felipe, which resulted in the capture of the former and the flight of his army. The affairs of the country remain in a very unsettled condition.

Annihilating Space.—Mr. Fuller of the Milwaukee Sentinel, lately made the trip from Milwaukee to the city of New York in sixty-two hours and a half, running time. The distance is about 1100 miles.

The Late Murder Case.

The terrible nature of the crime charged upon the prisoner, the revolting circumstances under which the murder must have been committed, with the overwhelming, crushing chain of evidence developed against the prisoner, have very naturally excited an extraordinary degree of feeling in our usually quiet community, and directed an unusual degree of prejudice against the hapless individual whose life, in all probability, is to be the sacrifice which must atone for the terrible crime of which he stands convicted. This feeling, under all the circumstances, we say, may be very natural and excusable; but that any portion of it should be directed (as we are informed is the case) against the counsel who so nobly responded to the dictates of humanity, and without any possible hope of securing reward, have so unflinchingly and perseveringly devoted their services to a fair, full and legal defence of the prisoner—is surprising, and, we must be permitted to say, not very complimentary to the judgment or good feeling of our people. As the sworn counsel for the defence, pledged to see that the prisoner secure a full, fair, and impartial trial, and have the benefit of every legal advantage, Mr. Smyser and his colleagues would have been untrue to their sworn obligations, untrue to the high character of their profession, and deserving of the severest censure, had they done one iota less than they have done for their client—had they permitted any considerations of personal interest, expediency, or cost, to have counted a feather's weight against the life of their client, or at least against their sworn obligations to see that he have the benefit of every advantage which our laws so humanely allow in cases of this kind. So far from deserving reprehension, for the humane response to the appeal of the prisoner for counsel, and the untiring assiduity with which the legal rights of the accused were watched over and protected throughout the entire conduct of the case, when there was no possible motive to influence this devotion of time and labor other than the promptings of humanity—Mr. Smyser and his colleagues merit, and, we have no doubt, when the first flush of prejudice shall have subsided, will receive the commendation of every reasonable, and humane, and reflecting citizen.—STAR.

"The Star that never Sets."

The noble State of Vermont, says the National Intelligencer, is still true to herself. She has just given a fresh proof of her fidelity to the Union and to her cherished republican principles. Unseduced and unswayed by all the isms comprehended in the term fanaticism—religious or political—she has come out of her recent struggle with her banner untarnished and triumphant. At her annual election, on Tuesday last, notwithstanding the coalition which existed there, as at the late election in Rhode Island, we are proud to be able to state that the Whigs succeeded in electing their excellent candidate, Professor JAMES MACHEN, to Congress, to succeed Mr. MARSH in the third district of the State; and that the whole State has gone for the Whigs by large majorities.

Late from Europe.

The steamer Washington arrived at N. York on Monday night. She brings a full freight and 186 passengers. There are later accounts from Hungary, though, as usual, very contradictory; but we incline to the opinion that the Hungarians have met with a defeat.

Mehemet Ali, the Ruler of Egypt, died at Alexandria on the 2d of August.

The Pope persists in his refusal to return to Rome. The people of Rome are becoming more and more excited by the arbitrary acts of the ecclesiastical court.

LATER.

Hungary has Fallen!

The steamer Niagara arrived at Halifax on Wednesday bringing Liverpool dates to the 25th.

The intelligence from the seat of war in Hungary is of the most disastrous kind. The Hungarians have been defeated at all points, and the cause which they so courageously upheld against fearful odds, has fallen past redemption. There appears to be no doubt that the Hungarians have been forced to lay down their arms and submit conditionally to the Russian forces. Prince Paskiewich has given official notice to the Emperor of Russia of the fact that Hungary is at the feet of the Emperor, and that Georgey was his prisoner. It is said that Kossuth and Bem still hold out. The Emperor of Russia has settled a price of 60,000 roubles on Kossuth's head, dead or alive.

The Fall of Hungary.

The disastrous intelligence from the patriot armies of Hungary has fallen upon the American community with a stunning force, says the Daily News, like the knell, as it were, of Liberty in Europe. We can scarcely believe so unfortunate and unexpected a result, and shall await with impatient interest the details of the circumstances which have led to it. As it is, the intelligence is scanty, and a deep mystery hangs over the matter. We are led, moreover, much against our will, to suspect Georgey, and that his course in the counsel with Kossuth and Bem was not dictated solely by patriotism. Kossuth, it is said, has entered Turkey, taking with him the insignia of the Hungarian Empire, State jewels, &c., and with even his remnant of the patriot army will hold out to the last. But what is that last to be? What hope have we now for liberty in Europe? The sacred name dishonored in France—the glorious spirit crushed in Rome—we have at length witnessed a scene of damning treachery and perfidy in Hungary, which causes the heart to recoil in horror. The last refuge of liberty, upon the continent of Europe, has been overrun by the hordes of Russia and Austria, and Europe is Cossack! But shall we not still hope? The God of Liberty, to whom the prayers, aye the souls of an hundred thousand patriots have gone up, will yet right his own cause, and the present generation will live to see Europe Republican.

A fire occurred at Elmira, New York, on the 3d inst., which consumed six stores and one tavern, besides other buildings. Loss estimated at $40,000 to $50,000—partly insured.

Henry M. Fuller.

RESPONSE TO THE NOMINATION.

The nomination of HENRY M. FULLER as the Whig candidate for Canal Commissioner of Pennsylvania, is responded to in the warmest and most enthusiastic manner throughout the State. The nomination was made by the State Convention with the same unanimity that attended the nomination of Gov. Johnston last year, and has been received by the people in the same spirit of enthusiasm with which it was made. Everywhere, from all quarters, the voice of approval comes up, showing that the best spirit pervades our ranks, and augurs the certain and complete success of our cause. We have on file a number of responses from the Whig press, and of public meetings, which we had intended to publish, but have not yet been able to find room. We shall endeavor to give some of them next week.

If the proper efforts are made to get out a full Whig vote, Henry M. Fuller will be elected by a majority of thousands, and a Whig majority in the Legislature will be carried. These are results which would redound to the honor and interests of the State, and are well worth the exertions of the whole Whig party. Mr. Fuller has entered the campaign himself in good earnest. He addressed a large meeting in Philadelphia on Monday evening, and will labor faithfully amongst the people in various parts of the State, until the election. He is now one of the ablest and most popular men in the State, and will become more and more popular as he becomes better known, and he will make himself better known and heard.

We say to every Whig in the Commonwealth, arouse! Buckle on your armor, and come up to the fight. The signs of the times are auspicious, and if you all do your duty, our flag will continue to float in triumph over the Old Keystone.—Intelligencer.

Guerrilla Fight.

It seems that the Locofoco leaders have become so conscious of the rottenness of their cause and of its odiousness in the public estimation, that they consider an open, fair field fight altogether hopeless; and have hence determined to change their tactics and try the Guerrilla system. In Blair county they declare they will offer to the people neither regular nominations nor volunteers, at the approaching election! In Lancaster county the Chairman of their County Committee officially announces that no ticket will be settled by the Party this year! Doubtless in other Whig counties the same policy is determined upon.

This is a beautiful state of affairs for the "indomitable and harmonious and unconquerable Democracy!" Not able in the year A. D. 1849—the 1st of the Administration of Old Zack, the hero of two Buena Vista victories; to muster a CORPSY TICKET where but a year ago they paraded them with all the pride and pomp of men confident of victory! Dismal plight! Ancient chivalry laid aside—the field abandoned—the faithful followers of Old and Young Hickory betaken to GUERRILLA warfare!—"Tell it not in Gath; publish it not in the streets of Askelon;" sufficiently humiliating must it be to have it known even amongst ourselves.

But let the Whigs take warning to keep a sharp look out. The Guerrilla system, dishonorable and degrading as it is, sometimes effects what open, manly warfare could not hope to do. Let our organization be carefully preserved—let the Press be watchful, and let the people be faithful, and no harm can be done us. But at the same time let us brand our opponents, who have adopted this barbarian system, as GUERRILLAS, that the nature of their tactics may be ever in our minds. They denounce us "British Whigs," "Tories," &c., and in return the epithet we propose is surely not too harsh. Guerrillas!—HOLD YOUR REGISTERS.

A Fuss among Students at College.

The young gentlemen who are receiving instruction at Washington College, Pa., have had a difficulty with the faculty, and thirty of them have withdrawn from that institution, if their fathers do not send them back. One of them committed improprieties, for which he was reprimanded, and his father informed of the fact. He took the matter in high dudgeon, and demanded an explanation. A number sided with him, but the faculty refused to numbers what they had denied to the delinquent, and the result was a withdrawal of the students from the College.

Diseased Potatoes should not be eaten. As many as twenty-one persons recently died at a farm in Ohio, the property of a gentleman named Rennick, and it is believed, from no other cause than eating diseased potatoes. These deaths have been before reported as from cholera.—A Mr. Hunter, in the same neighborhood, nearly lost his life a couple of weeks ago from eating potatoes ascertained by subsequent examination to have been diseased.

Heavy Damages and Important Verdict.—Rev. Alexander Campbell, President of Bethany (Va.) College, has received $10,000 of Rev. James Robinson, of Scotland. Mr. Campbell, on a tour through Scotland in 1847, was arrested and imprisoned in Edinburgh, through the agency of the Rev. James Robinson, for having, while discoursing on the subject of slavery, uttered sentiments obnoxious to that gentleman. Some of his friends instituted a suit against Mr. R. This suit has recently terminated, and the result is a decree of the Lords of Council and Session in favor of Mr. C. for two thousand pounds sterling.

Pardon of Fairbanks by Gov. Crittenden.—Mr. Calvin Fairbanks, of Genesee, N. Y., was convicted in Kentucky five years ago of aiding the escape of a slave and sentenced to the Penitentiary for 12 years. Yielding to petitions signed by Mr. Clay and other distinguished citizens, Gov. Crittenden pardoned him and he is now on his way home.

Thrilling Incident.—An incident transpired a day or two since, at the Government Works at Sellers' Pt. Flats, which was very unusual and thrilling in its character. It appears, that for some time past, a number of men have been engaged at that place under the direction of Captain Foster, of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, in digging a well, and the depth of sixty-seven feet was attained after pretty hard labor, with the pick and shovel. One of the workmen, on resuming operations, struck the bottom very hard with a shovel, and immediately a stream of water burst with great violence, through the aperture. The poor man, frightened at the dreadful situation, immediately pulled the rope with which he had been lowered, and hallooed to those above to draw him out, which was quickly done, though he received a complete drenching. In less than five minutes' time, the water had risen to within eight feet of the surface.—Balt. Sun.

Ausful Colliery Explosion.—Seventy Lives Lost.—On the 10th ult., at Aberdare, near Merthyr Tydvil, South Wales, a dreadful explosion of fire-damp, that dread and destructive agent, occurred at Mr. Wm. Thomas' colliery. The shock was felt for miles round. Soon after the fatal event a most melancholy scene took place—mothers hurrying in search of their sons, wives in search of their husbands, their cries rending the air as corpse after corpse, blackened and mutilated, was brought to sight; soon sixty disfigured corpses were brought from the pit, and then, it having become fatal to descend to the pit, the brave men who had, in such a praiseworthy manner, rescued the few that escaped from the pit, gave over, though it was believed that there were a great many others down, living or dead. One hundred and five men and boys were in the pit at the time of the explosion, very few of whom have been brought out alive.—Seven horses were killed. It is confidently asserted that the cause of this most awful catastrophe was the negligence of one of the colliers in going to a dangerous heading without a safety lamp. It is scarce three years ago since twenty-eight human lives were destroyed by an explosion of the same nature, and near the same pit.

Desperate Bravery.—Troopers' Fight with a Sioux War Party.—Three trappers, Vale, Cass, and Young, says the Jackson County (Iowa) Democrat, while looking for a beaver in the vicinity of Morcou river, discovered a large trail, rightly supposing that they were in the vicinity of a strong band of Indians.—They selected a suitable spot, and built of logs and poles a small hut, to which they gave the name of a fort. Before it was finished the Indians made their appearance. They showed that they were determined to have their scalps. Vale and his companions prepared for a desperate resistance. At the first fire of the Indians, Young was shot through the head. Vale and Cass returned the fire, and three Indians fell, at which they raised the war whoop. The unequal contest lasted several hours, Cass loading the guns while Vale, with unerring aim, thinned their ranks. Cass imprudently exposed his face and received a ball in his eye. Vale was now left alone to contend against the Indians. He made the best of it, loaded and fired in such rapid succession that the Indians were on the point of retiring, when he fell mortally wounded. The Indians lament his death, they buried him without scalping him, and honor him with the name of Eagle Brave. Twenty-eight Indians were killed in the action. Vale's relatives reside in Milwaukee.

St. Louis, Sept. 3.

By later advices from the Plains we learn that the cholera is raging among the North-western Indians to an alarming extent. It has disappeared from among the Southern tribes and those on the South Arkansas river. The Indians along the Missouri river continue greatly incensed against the whites for introducing the epidemic amongst them, and were committing daily murders on the inoffensive inhabitants out of revenge.

Packet ship Henry Clay Burned.
New York, Sept. 5.

About three o'clock this morning, the splendid packet ship Henry Clay, lying in the dock at Burling slip, took fire, and in a short time was burned to the water's edge. She had about half of her cargo on board. The Henry Clay was one of the finest packet ships belonging to this port. It will be remembered that a year or two ago she was driven ashore on the Jersey coast, and was got off after much damage and at great expense.—She was to have sailed for Liverpool tomorrow, Sept. 6th.

The Henry Clay was insured for 60,000 to $70,000. Her cargo, which was partially insured, consisted principally of flour and cotton, and was valued at $25,000.

Quick Firing.—During an official visit of the Secretary of the Navy to the navy yard at Washington, on Friday, a series of experiments in gunnery were given, under the direction of Lieut. S. A. Dalgreen, ordnance officer of the post. The Republic says, that by improvements lately made in the ordnance by that skillful officer and others, a thirty-two pounder was fired seven times in a minute, from one gun, being about double the usual number of rounds in that time.

Governor Johnston, of Pennsylvania, left the President at Erie, and returned to Harrisburg on account of the illness of his daughter.

The Iron Manufacture.—How much the Iron interest is suffering in this country by foreign competition, may be best judged by the fact, stated by the Albany Evening Journal, that the Directors of the Hudson River Railroad Company have actually paid to Peter Cooper, Esq., of Trenton, the large bonus of $51,000, for permission to retire from a contract entered into with him for rails. The contract was made for $67.50 a ton, but since the English rails are offered in the market in unlimited quantities at about $40 per ton, the Company find it profitable to pay Mr. Cooper $51,000 to render the contract with him a nullity, and then turn around and buy English iron. American Iron masters cannot live in the face of such competition.

Robbing a Letter.—A young man by the name of Knowls, a clerk in the Post Office at New Hope, says the last Doylestown Independent Democrat, was committed in default of bail, to the jail of Bucks county, last week, charged with breaking the seal of a letter, and purloining $100 which was enclosed therein.—After being charged with the deed, and the money discovered about his person, the rogue finding it useless to attempt any farther plea of innocence, at once acknowledged his guilt. He said to have just reached his 21st year, and has hitherto borne a respectable character.—What a melancholy commencement is this for a young man to make! His whole future life will be destroyed by this single act. He will be taken to Philadelphia and tried before the U. S. Circuit Court.

Two Enormous Serpents.—The brig Republic, whose arrival from Para, Brazil, has been already announced, brought as a portion of her "assorted cargo," an immense boa constrictor and a large anaconda. We are told they are the most magnificent samples of their respective varieties ever shipped alive from the shores of South America. The capture of the boa is said to have been an exciting affair. Though gorged with prey when attacked, he made such a vigorous fight that fifteen men, provided with strong nets, ropes, &c., found great difficulty in securing the monster. The reptiles are still on board the vessel.—N. Y. Tribune, Aug. 30th.

Large Robbery.—The trunk of D. G. McCrory, of Parkersburg, Va., was robbed of $3,000 on Sunday, on board the steamer Elite, on the Ohio. The money had been entrusted to him by the Bank at Parkersburg to deliver to the Merchants' and Mechanics' Bank of Wheeling.

Six Chinese were hanged for piracy on the 7th of June at Hong Kong professing Christianity in their last moments, having been proselyted by the Roman Catholic missionaries. Piracy continued notwithstanding, a native vessel having been plundered on the evening of the 6th within sight of the gallows.

Heavy Penalty.—The law in Connecticut against selling spirituous liquors imposes a fine of $10 for the first offence, $20 for the second, and so double for every offence of which a man shall be convicted. A man has forty-five cases pending against him, the last of which, if found guilty, subjects him to a penalty of $114,490,982,543,360.

Destructive Overflow.—The Red River Republican of the 21st ult., gives the particulars of a late terrible overflow in that vicinity, and estimates the damages at five millions of dollars. That paper states that not over 30,000 bales of cotton will be made in a section of country where 130,000 were produced last year.

The Genesee Synod of the Presbyterian Church, which convened at Freedonia, N. Y., a few days ago, closed its sessions on Friday last. It was not largely attended, owing to the prevalence of the epidemic, and the most interesting business before it was a case of discipline. A lay member, contrary to the rules of the church, had joined the Sons of Temperance, and the censures passed upon him by the church were sustained and affirmed by the Presbytery. An appeal was had to the Synod, and the matter was settled by repealing the resolution of censure passed by the church for his joining a secret society.

A Queer Propensity.—It was announced a few days ago, that a young man, son of the Rev. J. N. Sprague, had seized a lady in the streets of Brooklyn, threw her down and stole the shoe from her foot, which was afterwards found in the pocket of his coat. The father of the young man has published a letter in which he says, that from early boyhood this son has evinced a strange propensity for getting possession of the shoes of the female part of the family. This propensity was not steady, but periodical. As early as thirteen or fourteen years of age it was developed, the fact being notorious, not to the family only, but to the domestics. Sometimes one shoe would disappear, sometimes the pair, and they were discovered in the son's pocket, in his trunk, his bed, his room, and slyly concealed in various other places. This is the strangest kind of a monomania.

Ingenuity of Rogues.—The London Globe says the light-fingered gentry now wear short coats with pockets outside.—Their hands, in a crowd, are always, to prevent suspicion, in their pockets, which, however, have a large hole in the bottom. Through this aperture they manage to push their hands, and, in many cases, unperceived and undetected, contrive to make free with the pockets of those whom they have been standing near.

Prussian Brutality.—An American in a Prussian Prison.—A letter from Basle, Switzerland, dated Aug. 13, to the Philadelphia Pennsylvania, says that a citizen of Harrisburg, Pa., named Beck, is now imprisoned in the Fortress of Rostatt, by the Prussians, for some political offence, and that they are ready to relieve him on his giving guarantee that he will immediately leave for the United States, and never return again to Continental Europe. The same writer also adds:

"Only yesterday morning, in this neighborhood, in Friburg, a young, intelligent, and literary man, named Neff, personally known to me, was shot, having been found guilty by a Prussian court martial of exciting, by writing, the people of Baden and Germany to be dissatisfied with the present form of government; and last, but not least, of being in correspondence with the Democrats of France, Switzerland and America! Upon these grounds, the man [only 27 years old, and only support of an aged, widowed mother,] was condemned and shot. He died like a man. When arrived at the place of execution, he swung his hat, and exclaimed in a loud voice, 'Long live German Liberty—long live the German Republic!' These were his last words, and eight bullets entered his breast at the same instant. The executioners were as pale as death, whilst Neff looked cheerful.

A Desperate Lover.—A few days ago as a young lady was returning from a camp meeting, near Lancaster, accompanied by a gentleman, she was attacked by a rejected lover, who knocked the gentleman down, hit the lady a blow in the breast and then attempted to throttle her! The furious lover was subsequently arrested. He would have made a pretty husband, had his suit been accepted!

Pleasures of Office-Holding.—The Governor of Canada has had all the lower floor of the mansion at Monkland's, his "White House," barricaded with three inch plank, loopholed for musketry.—When he rides about it is always within the points commanded by a line of muskets.

Money from a Grave.—The St. Louis Republican has an account of a sum of money lately recovered in the following manner: A Mr. Conklin, a merchant of Peoria, while on his way to St. Louis, was taken very suddenly ill on the boat, and soon afterwards made his will and delivered a package of money over to the officers of the boat. The package was not examined at the time, but Mr. Conklin had several times stated that he had upwards of $3,000 in money with him. When he was to be removed from the boat, the packet was opened and only $1,060 found in it. His clothing were searched, but no traces of the missing amount was gathered. All came to the conclusion that it had been stolen. Mr. C. was conveyed to the Hotel for Invalids in the morning and died that evening, and was buried the next day. News of the loss was sent to his family, and by return an answer was received that he had a part of his funds sewed in his under flannel shirt. Upon exhuming the body, and divesting it of the shirt, which had not been taken off on account of the rigidity of the limbs after death, the remaining portion, $2,020, was found carefully sewed up in it.

Canadian Independence.—The movement in behalf of Canadian independence has become more marked and open.—Mr. H. B. Wilson, who has been for some years prominently connected with provincial politics, has issued the prospectus of a new semi-weekly paper to be called the "Canadian Independent," which he proposes to issue at Hamilton and Toronto—chiefly designed "to promote, by peaceable means, separation from the Mother Country." In Lower Canada the feeling in favor of independence is almost unanimous, and the public press has taken the lead in its advocacy. In Upper Canada a large proportion of the inhabitants are said to entertain similar sentiments, although, from their subservience to party purposes, the journals avoid the subject. The opinion is also expressed that the English Government will concede independence whenever it shall be asked by a majority of the people.

More United States.—The territory not yet formed into States, will make forty six and a half States as large as Pennsylvania. Of these thirty five will be north of thirty-six degrees thirty minutes, or free States. Eleven and a half south of thirty-six degrees thirty minutes or slave States—supposing the Missouri compromise line to be adopted. The U. S. States will then consist of seventy-six sovereign States. Should Oregon, California, and New Mexico fly off, and the Rocky Mountains be the division between the United States of the Pacific, the Atlantic Union will contain fifty-seven sovereign States, the Pacific Union nineteen gigantic sovereign States.—These calculations are based upon the recent report of the United States Commissioner of the general Land Office—and take in all the United States territory of every kind not yet formed into States.

A Large Watermelon.—The Alabama Argus has been shown a watermelon of uncommon size, from the plantation of a friend, which weighed seventy-three pounds and a quarter, and measured eighteen feet six inches in circumference, and twelve feet nine inches in diameter!

Female Gambling.—A number of the lady boarders of Saratoga were upon the rare course the other day betting with great apparent interest, and it is said to considerable sums of money.
